

When autumn leaves fall to the ground,
we gather them from all around.
Rake them up, then jump in high,
and find your clue where leaves may fly!

onelittleproject.com

High in the trees is where I grow,
but in the fall I land below.
Brown and rough with scales all around,
see if you can spot me on the ground!

onelittleproject.com

I grow on vines along the ground,
orange, green, and big and round.
In the fall, I'm quite a sight,
look for me in autumn light!

onelittleproject.com

Tall and bright, I love the sun,
my yellow petals are lots of fun.
Birds love the seeds that I can grow,
find me standing high, not low!

onelittleproject.com

I'm made of straw all bundled tight,
golden yellow, warm and bright.
On farms in fall, I'm often found,
sitting in fields upon the ground!

onelittleproject.com

I have a handle and lots of teeth,
I gather up the leaves beneath.
Pull me along across the ground,
I make neat piles all around!

onelittleproject.com

I hang outside for birds to find,
with tasty seeds of every kind.
They stop by when they need a treat,
so find the place where feathered friends eat!

onelittleproject.com

I once was part of a tree so tall,
But now I'm short and not tall at all.
I'm made of wood and stay in the ground,
look down low where I can be found!

onelittleproject.com

I keep your feet both warm and dry,
when rainy clouds are in the sky.
Step through puddles, mud, and goo,
find a pair then find your clue!

onelittleproject.com

I fly through the air when I'm thrown just right.
Catch me with two hands and hold on tight.
I'm brown and pointy and fun to toss,
so run down the field to prevent a loss!

onelittleproject.com

Soft and cozy, warm and snug,
wearing me feels like a hug.
When fall brings the cooler weather,
pull me on to feel much better!

onelittleproject.com

Round brown logs are stacked with care,
ready for cold and frosty air.
When chilly nights come creeping in,
find the place where fires begin!

onelittleproject.com

I'm a spice that smells so sweet.
On autumn treats I'm fun to eat.
Sprinkle me on apples too,
can you guess me from this clue?

onelittleproject.com

Books and pencils go inside,
on your shoulders I can ride.
When fall means school has come once more,
find what you carry out the door!

onelittleproject.com

I grow on trees when fall is near,
red or green, I may appear.
Pick me fresh and take a bite,
I'm crunchy, juicy, and just right!

onelittleproject.com

You solved each riddle, one by one,
Your fall-time hunt is finally done!
You followed the clues along the way,
Now find your prize—hip hip hooray!

onelittleproject.com

When autumn leaves fall to the ground,
we gather them from all around.
Rake them up, then jump in high,
and find your clue where leaves may fly!

LEAF PILE

onelittleproject.com

High in the trees is where I grow,
but in the fall I land below.
Brown and rough with scales all around,
see if you can spot me on the ground!

PINECONE

onelittleproject.com

I grow on vines along the ground,
orange, green, and big and round.
In the fall, I'm quite a sight,
look for me in autumn light!

PUMPKIN

onelittleproject.com

Tall and bright, I love the sun,
my yellow petals are lots of fun.
Birds love the seeds that I can grow,
find me standing high, not low!

SUNFLOWER

onelittleproject.com

I'm made of straw all bundled tight,
golden yellow, warm and bright.
On farms in fall, I'm often found,
sitting in fields upon the ground!

HAY BALE

onelittleproject.com

I have a handle and lots of teeth,
I gather up the leaves beneath.
Pull me along across the ground,
I make neat piles all around!

RAKE

onelittleproject.com

I hang outside for birds to find,
with tasty seeds of every kind.
They stop by when they need a treat,
so find the place where feathered friends eat!

BIRD FEEDER

onelittleproject.com

I once was part of a tree so tall,
But now I'm short and not tall at all.
I'm made of wood and stay in the ground,
look down low where I can be found!

TREE STUMP

onelittleproject.com

I keep your feet both warm and dry,
when rainy clouds are in the sky.
Step through puddles, mud, and goo,
find a pair then find your clue!

RUBBER BOOTS

onelittleproject.com

I fly through the air when I'm thrown just right.
Catch me with two hands and hold on tight.
I'm brown and pointy and fun to toss,
so run down the field to prevent a loss!

FOOTBALL

onelittleproject.com

Soft and cozy, warm and snug,
wearing me feels like a hug.
When fall brings the cooler weather,
pull me on to feel much better!

SWEATER

onelittleproject.com

Round brown logs are stacked with care,
ready for cold and frosty air.
When chilly nights come creeping in,
find the place where fires begin!

WOOD PILE

onelittleproject.com

I'm a spice that smells so sweet.
On autumn treats I'm fun to eat.
Sprinkle me on apples too,
can you guess me from this clue?

CINNAMON

onelittleproject.com

Books and pencils go inside,
on your shoulders I can ride.
When fall means school has come once more,
find what you carry out the door!

BACKPACK

onelittleproject.com

I grow on trees when fall is near,
red or green, I may appear.
Pick me fresh and take a bite,
I'm crunchy, juicy, and just right!

APPLE

onelittleproject.com

You solved each riddle, one by one,
Your fall-time hunt is finally done!
You followed the clues along the way,
Now find your prize - hip hip hooray!

FINISH

onelittleproject.com